Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair! The main reason I use a prepaid system is because I want to pay only for what I use, no other fees!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I use it so that I can be reachable by my school age children when I have to be away from home. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair! Stop sticking it to the middle class. You make more money than you need, the middle class barely makes enough to live on.

Sincerely,

Leslie Wright
